Abolición de la pena de muerte

El Consejo de Europa desempeñó un papel precursor en la lucha por la abolición, al considerar que la pena de muerte no tiene cabida en sociedades democráticas.

El Consejo de Europa ha hecho de la abolición de la pena capital una condición previa a la adhesión. Así, desde 1997 no se ha producido ninguna ejecución en el territorio de los 47 países que componen la Organización

COMPASS: MANUAL FOR HUMAN RIGHTS EDUCATION WITH YOUNG PEOPLE

Welcome to COMPASS, the manual on human rights education with young people!

Welcome to Compass, the manual for human rights education with young people, in this fully revised and updated edition!

Compass was first published in 2002 within the framework of the Human Rights Education Youth Programme of the Directorate of Youth and Sport of the Council of Europe. The programme was created because human rights education (HRE) – meaning educational programmes and activities that focus on promoting equality in human dignity – was, and remains, of incalculable value in shaping a dimension of democratic citizenship for all young people and in promoting a culture of universal human rights. History Teaching

Welcome to the History Teaching website

History and history teaching have been a focus for the Council of Europe's work on education since its inception. From the start and as stated in the European Cultural Convention, the organisation recognised the importance of history as a basis for the education of the citizens of Europe and its role in bridging differences and bringing people together by establishing mutual understanding and confidence between the peoples of Europe.

History teaching in perspective gives an overview of the changes that affected Europe and the Council of Europe since 1949 and how the instances of the Council of Europe responded to the changes.

Work in the field of history teaching, both in intergovernmental projects or through bilateral and regional cooperation focuses on issues:

- related to the content of history textbooks to eliminate prejudice;
- on the modernisation of teaching programmes and curricula;
- and on teacher training .

The operational mode of all activities was always to create a space for debate where various target groups could share their views, confront their "reality" and revise their perception.

” FACTS AND FIGURES

BULLYING – WHAT IS IT?

— Bullying and violence is a major problem in schools worldwide. It can poison the atmosphere in a school and ruin the life of a child, in a worst-case scenario pushing a victim to commit suicide.

— Bullying in schools is a reflection of the violence in our societies and is a human rights violation. Pupils have the right to learn in a safe, unthreatening environment.

— Schools can help prevent violence, both during school time and in the wider community, by equipping children and young people with democratic competences.

WHAT CAN WE DO?

What is a Safe School?

— The solutions are not necessarily costly or legally complex. Whole-school human rights and citizenship education programmes are designed to create a human rights ethos across a school and to bring everyone together to combat bullying. They give all children and young people – not just the bullies and their victims – an important role to play, and involve parents, teachers, non-teaching staff and members of the local community. These programmes help a school become a Safe School.

Creating a Safe School

— The Council of Europe provides training for teachers and the necessary tools for developing a Safe School. Training manuals, information booklets, guides, lesson plans, films and access to expert networks are all available free via the Council of Europe's web pages. These resources are a result of collaborative projects and initiatives and build on existing good practices in Council of Europe member states.
