

Cooperación con Egipto: Desarrollo de Capacidades en Educación Superior

Juan Luis García Alonso

Universidad de Salamanca

- En enero de 2010, hace casi 8 años, fui nombrado Asesor de la Vicerrectora de Relaciones Internacionales de Salamanca y Delegado de la Universidad para Redes Internacionales de universidades.
- Me centré de modo particular en las relaciones con las universidades europeas, dejando a la propia Vicerrectora inicialmente las relaciones con otros continentes con los que Salamanca había estado históricamente muy implicada: las Américas y Asia Oriental (China, Japón y Corea)
- Paradójicamente la implicación con Europa y el Grupo Coímbra de Universidades fue lo que me llevó al mundo árabe. Pronto comprendí la relevancia de los programas TEMPUS y Erasmus Mundus para el desarrollo de las relaciones internacionales de la Universidad en regiones en las que hasta la fecha había tenido poca presencia

La idea de IDELE

- En el otoño de 2010 contactamos con la entonces Oficina Nacional de TEMPUS en Egipto, explicando nuestra idea de cooperar con Egipto en el ámbito del español.
- La Oficina Nacional TEMPUS nos puso en contacto con los colegas egipcios apropiados.
- En 2011 pedimos y obtuvimos de la AECID una Acción Preparatoria para viajar al país y explicar nuestros planes in situ a las autoridades universitarias egipcias. La “Acción Preparatoria IDELE” nos permitiría viajar a Egipto en enero y en mayo de 2012 a este fin.

Una historia de IDELE

- Implementación. 2012 y 2013. Tiempos de tormenta.
- TRES sistemas burocráticos y el grado creciente de inestabilidad política y social.

- Retraso en nuestros planes, pero celebramos la inauguración oficial del Máster en septiembre de 2014 en la Universidad de El Cairo.

- La primera promoción de egresados llegó antes de la finalización del proyecto IDELE el día 14 de octubre de 2016.

Una historia de IDELE

De IDELE a MULCH

- 2015-2016. IDELE llegó a su final...

1. Final Technical Implementation Report

The IDELE project has accomplished the expected results as foreseen in the original proposal: the launch of a two years Joint Master Degree Programme (MULCH_Master Universitario en Lengua y Cultura Hispanicas) between three Programme Countries Universities (University of Salamanca, Bologna and Coimbra) and six Egyptian Universities (University of Cairo, Ain Shams, Al Azhar, Minia, Alexandria and Helwan) with the use of ECTS as study credit system and fully recognised by the Spanish University Quality Assurance Agency (ACSUCYL) and by the Supreme Council of Egyptian Universities.

In order to obtain all the expected results, the partnership was granted an extension of the eligibility period of one year. This has provided the time to finalise the pending activities despite the difficulties encountered during the implementation which were not attributable to the partnership responsibility.

As a result, the achievements obtained within each work packages and the overall implementation of the project are commendable. The final report offers a very exhaustive and detailed description of the activities carried out in each work package and the results obtained: this can be considered as a good practice.
