Profile of participants:

Adult Education staff whose role is to foster inclusion through tackling educational barriers, and who are in a position to develop international partnerships on behalf of their organisation or institution.

Aim

The principal aim will be to collectively develop methods and approaches to target excluded groups, tackle barriers and widen participation; particularly focusing on young people with learning difficulties, early school leavers, lower qualified persons and young people with poor school performance. We will look to stimulate cross-sectoral cooperation to tackle educational barriers, through the opportunities available in the Erasmus+ programme.

Objectives of the event:

- Stimulate TCA cross-sectoral cooperation between Youth, Vet, Adult Education, and Schools in the reengagement of young people with Educational Barriers.
- Provide space for sharing of good practices particularly looking at each sector's unique approach
- Conduct analysis of case studies on successful partnerships in projects addressing Educational Barriers projects
- Discuss how such projects can be realised through a European dimension particularly through Erasmus+
- Use recommendations and outputs for further planning and development of the project

Through active attendance participants will:

- Become aware of what support is available through the Erasmus+ programme, and with reference to the Inclusion and Diversity Strategy
- Be inspired by good practices from different sectors and countries

- Take back practical tools and approaches through analysis of case studies, that can be applied or adapted in their local context
- Increase in knowledge of Erasmus+ and how it can be used to engage and support young people with educational barriers
- Be provided with the opportunity to network with cross-sectoral organisations to create new partnerships
